

New Year's Edition. SEVERAL SUICIDES.

This being New Year's, but one edition of the Star is issued. Readers who were served with the later editions of yesterday will find some of the matter repeated to them. This is unavoidable in order that readers of the early editions may not altogether lose important news.

Spain. ALFONSO'S ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

MADRID, Jan. 1.—The attempt to assassinate King Alfonso still remains the exclusive topic of conversation in all circles in this city. The examination of young Gonzales is yet in progress, and strenuous efforts are being made to elicit from him the names of the persons who persuaded him to try to shoot the King, and whose ultimate purpose is to assassinate all the sovereigns of Europe, but thus far without obtaining any detailed information.

Gonzales says he does not know any of the parties who employed him as their agent, as the interviews between them were secret, and the men were disguised and used no names. Two other persons were arrested on suspicion of complicity in crime, but were released after an examination. A strict guard will be maintained for the present around the palace, and also about the person of the King when he is obliged to move through the streets.

Great Britain. THE DUNDEE DISASTER.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—A dispatch from Dundee states that the Tay Bridge will be immediately rebuilt. Afghanistan. OUTRAGES IN CABUL.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—A dispatch from Cabul says that during the Afghan occupation of that city the non-Mahomedan women were publicly stripped and outraged and the men were shot. The Jihad has collapsed, and the dispersion of the enemy is complete.

Keene sent $4,000,000 to Chicago yesterday to close out his last year's deal, and one to three millions came from other parties who were operating with him. WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—New Year's is being observed here as usual to-day, very quietly, and a Sabbath-like stillness prevails. All the public offices are closed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Almost one second after 12 o'clock this morning, 1880 was ushered in with noisy demonstration. Over 5,000 persons assembled in the vicinity of Trinity Church to listen to the chimes there.

When the ponderous time-bell chimed out the midnight hour, the assembly burst into cheers, and then there was a pandemonium for twenty minutes. All the steam whistles and bells available in the city were greatly exercised. All sorts of music burst on the air—the blowing of horns, the discharge of fire-arms, drums and above all the unearthly shrieks of callophones contributed to make a startling uproar.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 1.—The papers publish long lists of ladies who keep open house to-day. Business is generally suspended.

FUN ON 'CHANGE—POST-DISPATCH NOT SOLD.

Special to the Star.

St. Louis, Jan. 1.—There was fun alive on 'Change yesterday afternoon in singing out the old year. Bags of flour shot like meteors in every direction, filling the hall with a perfect fog of dust. The Haynes boom receives no support from intelligent men. Gov. Garcelon last night was asked in regard to the matter. He said the whole story was a humbug, that his term of office did not expire until noon Wednesday, the 7th of January, and that Mr. Haynes could not by any possible means be declared Governor.

A force of nearly seventy-five men under charge of Superintendent Lancaster are quartered at the State-house, armed and prepared to resist any attack that may be made on that building. Governor Garcelon last night finished the preparation of the questions of law which have been submitted to the Supreme Court for consideration.

They are based upon the law points contained in Mr. Morrill's propositions, but do not contain the questions of fact therein set forth. The decision of the court, either affirmatively or negatively, can have no bearing upon the result of the canvass, and the questions are only asked for the purpose of instructing the Governor in his duty under the Constitution, and informing the Legislature what its duties are.

How the New Year Was Ushered in.

And the Way Cincinnati Is Spending the First Day.

Very Little Business, But Fine Weather, and a Time of General Social Enjoyment.

The old English, semi-Druidical custom of prolonging the festivities begun on Christmas Eve (December 24th) to Twelfth Night (January 6th), has fallen into disuse even in Great Britain. In this country it never could be said to have legitimately prevailed, although Virginia and Maryland, which borrowed many of their social customs from the cavaliers of England, as did the Puritans of New England from those of the English Puritans, had a faint reflection of the ancient spirit in the holiday universally accorded to the slaves from Christmas Day to New Year's.

The South, which borrowed with the institutions of Virginia most of her social prejudices and habits, adopted this custom, and up to the disappearance of slavery under the stern logic of our late civil war Christmas week was generally regarded as more or less a holiday for everybody, but Christmas Day was the holiday par excellence nevertheless. Abroad, especially in Paris, Christmas has little significance except as a religious festival; but New Year's is particularly the great day of the year (le jour de l'an), and what Christmas is to the German New Year's is to the Parisian—that is, a day for the present making (straw), and your true Frenchman is poor indeed who does not find means to offer some memento however trifling to his intimate friends. The matter of New Year's calls, at present popular in this country, appears somehow to be an offshoot of the French social habit of presenting cards on that day to those friends whom it is desired to continue to know or be known to. Instead, however, as with us, of making the call in person, the gentleman's visiting card is enclosed in an envelope and sent by a trusty messenger to the residence of the person to whom it is desired to offer the politeness. The really pleasant custom of personally paying one's respects to acquaintances on New Year's, which has been practiced with us now for several years, has been very much abandoned and has narrowly escaped being banished altogether from the ranks of sensible people; but sensible people have apparently thought it better to reform its defects than to condemn it altogether. Among the modern code of ethics which is recognized as governing the matter of who shall make New Year's calls and on whom to call it is a rule that gentlemen should not presume to present themselves on New Year's Day to any ladies whom they are not entitled to call upon on any other day; where a lady is assisted by other ladies an acquaintance with any one of those who are receiving entitles the caller to be received by all, although he may not be personally known to the lady at whose house the call is made.

USHERING IN THE NEW YEAR.
The balls given last night were perfectly orderly and a pleasant time was spent at all the halls.

The balls given were by the Knights of St. Joseph, at the Lytle Greys' Armory; at Turner Hall, by the Harugari Mannerchor; at the Germania Building, on Twelfth and Walnut streets, by the Cincinnati Orpheus, and at the Hall, Ninth and Walnut streets, by the Cincinnati Mannerchor.

At Turner Hall the Druid Sangerchor had a Christmas tree, raffle, Messrs. R. Kirs, H. Zimmermann, Wm. Fenstermacher, K. Kuehnle and T. H. A. Muller, being the Committee on Arrangements. The little ones were all made happy.

The balls given at Mozart and Greenwood Halls last night for the benefit of the orphanage, was well patronized, and the young folks enjoyed the merry dance highly. The tables were also well patronized. The children's Christmas Festival was held on Wednesday, New Year's Eve, at Lawrence-street Welsh Congregational Church, and the little ones were represented in goodly numbers. They seemed to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent of the word. The meeting was enlivened by good singing and speaking, and one great item of interest was the presence of their new pastor, Rev. Mr. Jones, formerly of Gomer, Allen County, Ohio. Still another very interesting feature of the affair was the presentation of a beautiful gold-headed cane to Mr. Stephen Richards by his Bible class, as a small testimonial of their very high regard for him. He has been a teacher in the same class these twenty-one years, and never was absent but about seven Sundays on account of sickness and death in the family.

The watch-metings were all well attended. On the streets there was such a noise by bursting fire-crackers, pistols and torpedoes, the ringing of bells, as the shrill whistling by boats, railroads, &c., and was nearly as great as during the night of the late Mayor Johnson's big jamboree. This was especially the case at midnight.

AT THE CHURCHES TO-DAY.

Grand solemn High Mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock to-day at St. Ludwig's Church. Rev. Joseph J. Macke, a brother of Policeman Macke, officiated. Rev. Macke was ordained last Sunday in Lawrenceburg, Ind., and this was his first appearance at St. Ludwig's Church. Mr. H. Millard's most popular mass in G was sung by the excellent choir, under the distinguished organist, Mr. Louis Piker. The solo were in the hands of Misses Arnetts and Postam, and Messrs. Willeke and Piker.

Rev. Leopold preached the festival sermon. The splendid surplice worn by Rev. Macke was the gift of Mr. Louis Hudspeth, Br., of the firm of Hudspeth & Kottke.

NEW YEAR'S AMUSEMENTS.

All the theaters give matinees to-day, and there are all indications of crowded houses. The weather is fine and attractive.

At the Grand Opera-house Lotte appears at both matinee and night. Matinee, "Musette;" night, "Zip."

At Pike's Opera-house Mr. and Mrs. Bandmann at the matinee give a double bill, "Don Cesar," and "Raising the Wind." At night, "Othello."

At Heuck's Opera-house, Mr. Milton Nobles and company appear twice to-day, matinee and night, in the popular play, "The Phoenix."

The Vine-street Opera-house wishes its patrons a happy New Year, and gives two performances, matinee and night.

At Music Hall an organ concert takes place this afternoon.

RECEPTIONS AND CALLS.

The grandest occurrences in the line of the former are the Cuvier and Lincoln Clubs to-day. The first presents an unusual delicacy to its invited guests. By the kindness of D. H. Merritt, Esq., of Marquette, the club, which receives from 12 to 8 p. m., is the recipient of a donation of some brook trout, white fish and salmon. Messrs. Gilmour, of the Grand Hotel, have undertaken to serve these delicacies in a royal fashion.

The Lincoln Club gives its first annual New Year's reception from 12 m. to 8 p. m., at their palatial headquarters, at the corner of Eighth and Race streets. The members have made all possible arrangements for furnishing an enjoyable time to those invited.

The weather is so fine that the custom of New Year's calls is being indulged in much more generally than on any previous year. Nearly all ladies are either formally keeping "open house" or are more quietly "at home" to their friends.

Calling cards of this year present many unique designs and many are both artistic and beautiful. One of the most striking is that presented by the Aquatic Boat Club who call in a body. The outside of the card is handsomely designed, while within are cards of the members, bearing the following names:

Edward Wegelin, A. C. Banks, Frank Peck, Frank Gaetz, Joseph Schock, Wm. Higginbotham.

NEW YEAR'S PRESENTATIONS.

Mr. John T. Richmond, foreman of Davis & Gould's shop, was presented yesterday by the men in his employ with a fine gold-headed cane and an Odd-fellows' scarf-pin. Mr. James Dore was the orator of the occasion.

Mr. Fred. Galbar, who for a number of years has been the foreman of Newburgh, Stern, Lauer & Co.'s establishment, was made the recipient of an elegant present last evening, upon his retirement from the house of his fellow employees. The gift, a beautiful silver snuff-box, with the coat-of-arms of his business, and handsomely inscribed, was presented at the residence of Mr. Jacob Abbiel, No. 84 Walnut street.

Mr. M. J. Mack was presented last evening with an elegant book-case and secretory by his friends at Mack, Stadler & Co's.

The members of the German Dramatic Company performing at Robinson's Opera-house, last night presented Milton Nobles with an elegant basket of flowers, as a recognition of his kindness in putting a headstone over the grave of Methusa Schellier, who died at Vicksburg of yellow fever.

Messrs. John Van & Co., of Fourth street, gave an elegant repast to their employees yesterday. A band of music was present, and the affair wound up with a dance.

AROUND THE CITY.

The city, so far as business is concerned, is as deserted from vehicles as on Sunday. The wholesale houses, as a rule, have their shutters up. Along Fourth and Fifth streets some of the retail dry goods stores are open, but they will close early this afternoon.

There was no session of the Police Court, United States Courts, and Common Pleas and District and Superior Courts. All the City Offices, except the Health Office, closed this morning. The County Offices, which is otherwise open all day and most of the night, was closed up at noon.

Local Personal.

Hon. Ansel T. Walling, of Pickaway County, was in the city yesterday.

Florian Giauque, Esq., has returned to the city after an extensive trip throughout the South.

Mr. A. T. Goshorn has received from the Spanish Minister of State the announcement that the King of Spain has conferred on him the decoration of the royal order of "Isabel la Catolica," with the title of "Commander," in recognition of Mr. Goshorn's services to Spain when Director General of the Centennial Exhibition.

Shadows of Coming Events.

A temperance meeting will be held in the High Street Mission Church this evening.

Once in a while retribution overtakes a member of a charivari party, and when it does few there are to mourn. Myron Teachout, of Richfield, Mich., touched off a gunpowder abomination of some sort at a "horning" party a few weeks ago, and has had his damaged body taken to Ann Arbor for repair.

The lungs are strained and racked by a persistent cough, the general strength wasted, and an incurable complaint often established thereby. Dr. Jayne's Expectorant is an effective remedy for coughs and colds, and asserts a beneficial effect on the pulmonary and bronchial organs.

For allaying hoarseness and irritation of the throat it is daily proved that "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are a mild remedy, yet very efficacious.

Bilious Rheumatism.

Is quite common, especially in miasmatic and acute districts. Its peculiarities may depend on two causes: the transfer or extension of rheumatic irritation to the liver may derange the functions of that organ, giving rise to bilious vomiting from an excess of secretion; in others to yellowness of the tongue, conjunctiva and skin, with bilious urine and clay colored stools, from a suspension of the secretions, as in jaundice. But more frequently the rheumatism is coincident with an attack of intermittent or remittent fever. In the treatment of this class of rheumatism Swedish Bitters never fail to give immediate relief—take three or four tablespoonfuls daily until the bowels have been well purged, and the congestion or torpor of the liver has been overcome, then reduce the dose according to directions, but continue taking the medicine until a cure is effected and the whole system has assumed its natural condition. The Bitters will be sent by mail to any address on receipt of one dollar. Swedish Medicine Company, Pittsburg, Pa. Circular sent on receipt.

How many thoughtless persons allow themselves to be prostrated with disease, when a single dose of Maguire's Cundurama Bitters taken in time might prevent it.

A Novel Relief Article.

A company is just now completing preparations for the manufacture of a new article known as the "Electro-Magnetic Brush." The name explains the article, and with the benefits of electro-magnetism, so well acknowledged, this article can not help coming into general use. The brush contains over five hundred flexible magnetized steel teeth, with a complete and perfect galvanic battery in the back of the brush. Electricity and magnetism can be applied to the head or affected parts of the body more evenly and effectually than by any other process ever discovered. The teeth are so arranged that they transmit a gentle current of electricity and magnetism, producing friction without irritation.
